

Stars sparkle in the Hamptons

CELEBRITIES and socials kicked off the East End summer without a recession care over Memorial Day Weekend. Things got wild Sunday night at Surf Lodge in Montauk, where Alexandra Richards deejayed for Eliza Dushku, chef Sam Talbot and Liam McMullan. Our source reports, "The whole crowd was dancing until late, and everyone was half-naked by the end of the night."

Over at new outpost Montauk Yacht Club on Saturday, John Legend was spotted getting cozy with his model girlfriend, Chrissy Teigen. "She was rocking a pair of short shorts and sitting on his lap over lunch," said our tipster. Bethenny Frankel was there shilling her new book, "Naturally Thin."

On Saturday, New York Ranger Sean Avery was playing doorman at East Hampton club Lily Pond. "Sean took over the door and was only letting in girls he deemed hot enough," said our spy. At newly opened club Georgica in East Hampton the same night, a Page Six witness spotted Brett Ratner "with a Megan Fox look-alike" and Stavros Niarchos holding court with "a crew of models."

That same night, author Jay McInerney and his wife, Anne Hearst, hosted a dinner for 30 at their home in Water Mill.

Le Bernardin chef/partner Eric Ripert and his wife, Sandra, fashion designer Nicole Miller and her husband, Kim Taipale, Rick and Kathy Hilton, Keith and Ann Barish, and Jonathan and Somers Farkas were all at the soiree, where men and women were separated into different rooms so "nobody would feel they were at the wrong table."

In other holiday weekend boldface-partying, Anna Paquin hosted a bash for Hamptons Magazine at Day + Night Restaurant in Southampton; Kelly Killoren Bensimon threw herself a birthday party at her home in East Hampton; and Gwyneth Paltrow spent the weekend with Jerry and Jessica Seinfeld in Amagansett.